Global Internet Alert as AI Uncovers Decade-Old PHP Vulnerabilities, While DeepSeek's Models Dominate Leaderboards

This week, the AI world is abuzz with critical cybersecurity revelations, as AI models exposed a long-standing PHP vulnerability threatening a vast portion of the internet. Meanwhile, DeepSeek-AI made significant waves, not only with its DeepInfer framework and insights into AI inference profits but also by dominating the OpenRouter LLM leaderboard with its new flash models. Concurrently, other notable developments include Google's Gemini 4 Argon release, SoftBank's massive investment in OpenAI, and a surge of trending open-source projects on GitHub, from photo editors to AI agent tools.
